

Commission on the Status of Women
Sixty-third session
11 – 22 March 2019

Review theme: Women’s empowerment and the link to sustainable development (Agreed Conclusions of the sixtieth session)

Overview

In accordance with its working methods, the Commission on the Status of Women (CSW) each year will evaluate progress in the implementation of the Agreed Conclusions on a priority theme of a previous session, as its review theme, through an interactive dialogue that includes:

- (a) Member States of different regions, on a voluntary basis, presenting their lessons learned, challenges and best practices that identify means for accelerated implementation through national and regional experiences;
- (b) Ways to support and achieve accelerated implementation, including through addressing data gaps and challenges in the enhanced collection, reporting, use and analysis of data in regard to the theme, at the national, regional and global level.

The outcome of the discussion on the review theme will be in the form of a summary by the Chair of the Commission, prepared in consultation with the regional groups, through the members of the Bureau.

The review will be supported by a report of the Secretary-General on progress made on the review theme at the national level (E/CN.6/2019/4 – to be issued).

Review theme at CSW63

At the sixty-third session, the Commission’s review theme will be “Women’s empowerment and the link to sustainable development”, contained in its Agreed Conclusions of its sixtieth session of 2016.

The review of these Agreed Conclusions comes three and a half years after the adoption of the 2030 Agenda for Sustainable Development, a time when concerted action to implement the 2030 Agenda in a gender-responsive manner needs to be accelerated to achieve measurable progress by 2020 and full gender equality and empowerment of all women and girls by 2030. The Agreed Conclusions emphasized action in five key policy areas, with the full and effective participation and leadership of women and girls:

1. Ensuring that normative, legal and policy frameworks are gender-responsive and non-discriminatory;
2. Fostering enabling environments for financing gender equality and the empowerment of women and girls;
3. Strengthening women’s leadership and women’s full and equal participation in decision-making in all areas of sustainable development;
4. Strengthening gender-responsive data collection and follow-up and review processes in the context of the 2030 Agenda;
5. Enhancing national institutional arrangements to ensure that national planning, decision-making, policy formulation and implementation, budgeting processes and institutional structures contribute to the achievement of gender equality and the empowerment of all women and girls.

Member States making voluntary presentations should specifically address some or all of these five key areas of focus of the Agreed Conclusions since adoption by the Commission in March 2016. Member States should provide concrete examples of measures taken in response to the Agreed Conclusions from CSW60 and their impacts or results; identify good practice examples, as well as key lessons, gaps and challenges; and highlight successful inclusive collaboration with stakeholders and comprehensive approaches to the implementation of the Agreed Conclusions.

Proposed format for the review

In order to enable an interactive dialogue, CSW63 should invite up to 12 voluntary presentations by Member States. Each voluntary presentation will be no more than 15 minutes, followed by comments and questions by ‘partner countries’, and brief responses by the presenting Member State. It is proposed that each presenting country identifies in advance 2 to 3 ‘partner countries’ to comment on its presentation in a constructive manner, including posing questions. The ‘partner countries’ could be invited based on ongoing cooperation with the presenting country, on similar experiences, or because they would seek to benefit from the lessons of the presenting country. Presenting Member States may also wish to consider inviting a United Nations entity to contribute to the discussion from the floor.

Timetable

Presenting Member States should be identified through their regional groups, with the support of CSW Bureau members, by mid-December 2018 or January 2019, at the latest, to allow sufficient time for consultations at the national level and preparation of the presentations. Each presenting country should make available, at least one week prior to its presentation, a short synopsis so as to facilitate the contribution of ‘partners’, and to share information with all participants in the Commission.

CSW63 will allocate two meetings for the review, totaling 6 hours. Approximately 25 minutes will be allocated to each presentation (voluntary presentation, comments from ‘partners’, and responses from presenting country).

Technical briefing by UN-Women

UN-Women will hold two technical briefings for the Member States making voluntary presentations at CSW63, in mid-January 2019 and during the first week of March 2019.

UN-Women country offices, as applicable, stand ready to support national consultations and preparations for the voluntary presentations.

Format of voluntary presentations

Voluntary presentations should:

- At national level, be prepared through a multi-stakeholder consultation
- Focus on actions taken since March 2016 in response to the CSW60 Agreed Conclusions
- Focus on lessons learned, challenges and best practices, covering one or several areas of the Agreed Conclusions

- Be presented, if possible, by a team of up to 3 speakers, led by a senior Government official, and including a civil society/media representative
- Power point or short videos are encouraged (as part of the 15 minutes).
